GLOCAL UNIVERSE FUND

FACTSHEET

MAY 2024

Macroeconomic Update

After a disappointing month May brought strong performance to all of the fund's constituents. Both S&P500 and Nasdaq reached all-time highs driven by strong macroeconomic indicators and corporate earnings.

May was a strong month for corporate bond investors as both HY and HG bonds ended the month higher, 75% of speculative and 92% of investment grade bonds ended positive.

For US treasuries the month was in contrast slightly worse, as the curve shifted down across the board, by 15 bps in the under-3-year segment, and by 20 bps on the 3+ edge. Gold continued gaining momentum as major central banks resumed stacking the precious metal in reserves. Both BTC and ETH regained positions as the leading cryptocurrency closed in to all-time highs again this year.

Disclaimer

The data, views and forecasts in this document is for information purposes only and shall not be regarded as an offer, solicitation or recommendation for an investment. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. All investments involve risks including the risk of possible loss of principal. The market value of a Fund's portfolio may decline as a result of a number of factors, including adverse economic and market conditions, prospects of securities in the portfolio, changing interest rates, and real or perceived adverse competitive industry conditions. The Fund invests in securities and other investments that may be illiquid, which hold the risk that the securities will not be able to be sold at the time desired by the Fund. The Armenian securities markets have substantially less trading volume than the securities markets of OECD countries. Additionally, the capitalization of the Armenian securities markets is highly concentrated. This combination of lower volume and greater concentration in the Armenian securities markets may create a risk of greater price volatility than in the securities markets of developed economies. The views and forecasts contained herein are those of the GLOCAL team based on information that they believe to be reliable. These opinions may change over time.
